- Two large logo renewals driving a 10 % ARR increase
- Named a Representative Vendor in Gartner's 2025 Market Guide for Workplace Experience Applications
- Announced strategic collaboration with Noro, a pioneer in immersive telepresence

Khurram Sheikh, Chairman & CEO of CXAI, said:

"Q3 was a breakout quarter that demonstrated how agentic AI and spatial intelligence are reshaping the modern enterprise. Across every vertical, leaders are realizing that return-to-office mandates and AI initiatives will only succeed if they're powered by intelligence that's human-centered, contextual, and adaptive. CXAI is that intelligence layer. We're now scaling globally with enterprise deployments this quarter in NYC at the iconic 30 Rockefeller Plaza and partnerships such as our collaboration with Noro - where our autonomous AI engine will power life-size immersive communication portals to make hybrid work feel truly human. We're not just building a workplace app; we're building the operating system for experience."

Joy Mbanugo, Chief Financial Officer of CXAI, added:

"Our Q3 results reflect disciplined execution. We improved gross margins to 89%, maintained tight control over OpEx at $3.2 million, and achieved a 10 % increase in ARR through two major customer renewals. This performance shows the scalability of our SaaS model and the confidence that large enterprises have in CXAI's roadmap.

As we head into Q4, our focus remains clear drive sustainable growth, convert our innovation into recurring revenue, and continue improving operational leverage."

Strategic & Product Momentum

During Q3, CXAI advanced its platform and ecosystem:

- Noro Collaboration: CXAI and Noro announced intent to form a strategic partnership combining CXAI's autonomous AI engine with Noro's life-size telepresence portals. The joint solution delivers human-adaptive hybrid-work experiences that blend digital and physical collaboration.
- Platform Innovation: CXAI 1.0 upgrades cut booking times by 50%, enhanced map-based collaboration, and improved interface navigation. The new BTS Content Management System streamlines customer migrations beginning Q4, and the CXAI Digital Assistant is now live in trials- a context-aware AI concierge that saves time and drives adoption across enterprise workplaces.

- Industry Leadership: CXAI hosted thought-leadership forums at San Francisco Tech Week alongside executives from Google Cloud, focusing on Agentic AI, immersive collaboration and the future of hybrid work, WORKTECH @ Meta in Menlo Park, and the CoreNet Global Summit in Anaheim with real estate and facilities industry leaders.

"This collaboration demonstrates our shared commitment to re-humanizing hybrid work through immersive, intelligent technology," Sheikh added.

Positioned for Scale

With global deployments across 200 cities in 50 countries and a team that is 70% R&D, CXAI continues to execute on its mission to make workplaces more intelligent, adaptive, and human.

"The next phase of growth is about depth - expanding within our existing customer base while continuing to partner with forward-thinking enterprises that see AI as a competitive advantage," Sheikh said. "We believe CXAI is the most advanced agentic AI solution for the workplace and employee-experience markets, and we're positioned to scale efficiently as demand accelerates."
